Notes on Leader Training	Leaders with expired First aid training need renewing before the end of the year (Subject to courses being available in district). All current certificates have been extended by six months
Notes on Activity Risk assessments	Please note that all activities should have risk assessments. All activities at the normal meeting location should be risk assessed in the normal way and approved by your group scout leader or DESC if explorers as the district commissioner has delegated this to group scout leaders. (Please note you could as a section have one risk assessment to cover standard risks at the normal meeting place to cover the building and standard low risk activities). Any activities that are more dangerous (Usually those that need permits or away from the HQ will need separate assessments) All activities away from your normal location must be risk assessed and notified to the district commissioners nominated person (Stuart DDC) 7 days in advance with a copy of the activity risk assessment including Covid risks for that activity.
Notes	All Risk assessments must be shared with all your leaders and any helpers that help you on an activity and with the youth members for example explorer you might showing them the risk assessment and read over it, for beavers and cubs you would during the rules and instructions tell them what things are dangerous, for example at camp they could be told they are not allowed in the kitchen but also tell them why, ie there are hot pans and boiling water that could burn them. It important to give the reasons so they know the risks to help them develop their own safety skills as they grow up into adults.
