At Wicksteed we are striving to continue to deliver the standards of service that our loyal customer base is used to receiving. Unfortunately in these unprecedented times the company is unable to predict circumstances outside of our control precipitated by the Covid-19 pandemic such as increased government regulation and employee periods of mandatory isolation. Due to this, lead times will be fluctuating with the general Covid-19 situation. It is the responsibility of Wicksteed to ensure that our employees and the general public are at all times being kept as safe as possible and this will sometimes result in delays. If you entrust Wicksteed with your project we will of course keep you informed throughout your works on the current situation and are always here to help with any queries that you may have.

Please let me know if you need anything else.

Kind Regards
