Guidance notes for the Register of Members' Disclosable Pecuniary Interests and Other Registerable Interests

Part 1 – Disclosable Pecuniary Interests

These notes provide guidance about the information members should include on the register of disclosable pecuniary interests form. The relevant section of the register is given in bold, followed by the corresponding guidance.

It is a legal requirement that each member must register their disclosable pecuniary interests and those of their spouse or partner. (N.B. DCLG guidance suggests that the member may choose to register their partner's interests as if they were their own).

Each individual member must make their own judgment about making a declaration and they should not rely on a direction from an officer, though if in doubt they can speak with the Monitoring Officer. If you require any assistance in completing your members interests form, please contact the Monitoring Officer at Monitoring.Officer@scambs.gov.uk for assistance.

All members are required to notify the Monitoring Officer within 28 days of being elected, re-elected or appointed to the Council of any disclosable pecuniary interests which the person has at the time when the notification is given.

Outside of this period, when members have declared a disclosable pecuniary interest at a meeting and that interest was not on their register, they must update their register within 28 days of that meeting. The same rule applies to members making decisions when acting alone.

Failure to register or to declare a "disclosable pecuniary interest" is a criminal offence. So is speaking and voting, unless you have a dispensation. This is punishable by a fine of up to £5,000 and/or disqualification as a South Cambridgeshire District Councillor for up to five years.

Also, any body which has appointed you, with or without remuneration. You do not need to include your membership and any associated remunerated post to the Parish Council.

You need not say what the financial arrangements are, but should say for how long the contract is.

4. Land Licences and Corporate Tenancies

- 4.1 You should declare any land in the Parish area in which you/your spouse, partner have a beneficial interest (that is, in which you/ your spouse, partner have some proprietary interest for your own benefit). You should give the address or a brief description sufficient to identify it. If you/your spouse, partner live in the Parish you should declare your home as owner, lessee, or tenant. You should also declare any property from which you/your spouse, partner receive rent, or of which you are the mortgagee.

Note: "Land" includes any buildings or parts of buildings.

5 Securities

If you/ your spouse, partner own shares or other form of equity in a company or other body which has a place of business within the Parish's area, you will need to consider whether the interest is to be registered.

Identify the nominal value; this is the amount of shares indicated on the certificate; not the market value. If this exceeds £25,000, you need to register the name of the company or body.

If this is less than £25,000 but your/your spouse, partner's share is more than 1% of the total issued share capital, you need to register the name of the company or body.

Part 2 – Other Registerable Interests

These are not Disclosable Pecuniary Interests.

In addition to the Disclosable Pecuniary Interests above, you must, within 28 days of the code being adopted, or your election or appointment to office (where that is later), notify the monitoring officer in writing of the details of your interests within the following categories, which are called 'other registerable interests':

(a) Details of any body of which you are a member or in a position of general control or management and to which you are appointed or nominated by your local authority;

(b) Details of any body of which you are a member or in a position of general control or management and which –

- exercises functions of a public nature

- is directed to charitable purposes, or
- is a body which includes as one of its principal purposes influencing public opinion or policy

(c) Details of any gifts or hospitality with an estimated value of more than £50 or such other limit as your local authority has agreed, that you receive personally in connection with your official duties.

With Other Registerable Interests, you are only obliged to register your own interests and do not need to include interests of spouses or partners. Therefore, a spousal interest in a local group is not registerable as an 'other registerable interest'. Failure to register these interests is not covered by the criminal offence but would be a breach of the code.

What is a "body exercising functions of a public nature"?

Although it is not possible to produce a definitive list of such bodies, here are some criteria to consider when deciding whether or not a body meets that definition -

- does that body carry out a public service?
- is the body taking the place of local or central government in carrying out the function?
- is the body (including one outsourced in the private sector) exercising a function delegated to it by a public authority?
- is the function exercised under legislation or according to some statutory power?
- can the body be judicially reviewed?

Unless you answer "yes" to one of the above questions, it is unlikely that the body in your case is exercising functions of a public nature.

Examples of bodies included in this definition: government agencies, other councils, public health bodies, council-owned companies exercising public functions, arms-length management organisations carrying out housing functions on behalf of a council, school governing bodies.

Do local campaigning or Facebook groups need to be registered?

Membership (which does not include simply being on a mailing list), of local campaign or Facebook groups will only need to be registered if they are bodies:

- exercising functions of a public nature;
- directed towards charitable purposes; or
- one whose principal purpose includes influencing public opinion or policy.

Generally, it is unlikely that these groups will be regarded as formal bodies to be registered. However, each case should be considered on its own merits. 'A Body' is defined as 'a number of persons united or organised'. Some groups are very united on their cause and organised, but their purpose must fall under one of the functions listed above.

There must also be some formality to the membership, such as registration for example. Simply attending a meeting of a local campaign does not of itself make you a 'member' of that organisation.

There has been a growth in organisations which are more nebulous in nature, and no formal membership requirements exist, such as Extinction Rebellion. It can be helpful to ask yourself the question "do I consider I am a member of the organisation" and if the answer is yes, then register the membership for transparency purposes.

If you need further information or specific advice, please speak to your clerk or monitoring officer.

What about membership of a political party or trade union?

The second category of other registerable interests refers to membership of a body or being in a position of general control and management of a body, one of whose principal purposes includes the influence of public opinion or policy. This includes any political party or trade union. Memberships of political parties and Trade Unions therefore need to be registered. Remember that if because of membership of a political party or a trade union any payment or financial benefit is received, it is likely to come under the Sponsorship category of DPI.

Sensitive Information

Where you consider that disclosure of the details of an interest could lead to you, or a person connected with you, being subject to violence or intimidation, and the monitoring officer agrees, if the interest is entered on the register, copies of the register that are made available for inspection and any published version of the register will exclude details of the interest, but may state that you have an interest, the details of which are withheld.

What is sensitive information?

It may include your sensitive employment (such as certain scientific research or the Special Forces) which is covered by other legislation or interests that are likely to create serious risk of violence or intimidation against you or someone who lives with you.

For example, disclosure of your home address where there has been a threat of violence against you or where there is a court order protecting your whereabouts.

You should provide this information to your monitoring officer and explain your concerns regarding the disclosure of the sensitive information; including why it is likely to create a serious risk that you or a person who lives with you will be subjected to violence or intimidation. You do not need to include this information in your register of interests, if your monitoring officer agrees, but you need to disclose at meetings the fact that you have an interest in the matter concerned (see guidance on declaring interests).

What happens if the monitoring officer does not agree that the information is sensitive?

It is for the monitoring officer to decide if the information is sensitive. You must notify the monitoring officer of the information which you think is sensitive and give your reasons and any supporting evidence.

If the monitoring officer agrees, this information does not need to be included in the register of interests. However, if the monitoring officer disagrees then it must be registered.

What happens if the information stops being sensitive?

You must notify the monitoring officer of any change in circumstances which would mean that the sensitive information is no longer sensitive within 28 days of the change, for example a change in employment. The information would then be included in the authority's register of interests.

I haven't received a direct threat, but I am concerned about registering my home address.

At present, councillors are required to register their home address as part of their local authority's register of interests which are typically published on their local authority website. There have been growing concerns about the potential for threats and intimidation to councillors by virtue of disclosing their home address. Whilst some councillors believe disclosing a home address is a core component of democracy and it is important for the public to know where a councillor may live as they may be making decisions that have an impact on their property, others are very concerned about it. Section 32 of the Localism Act 2011 allows Local Authorities to withhold sensitive interests from the public register where their disclosure could lead to violence or intimidation. It is recommended that councillors should not be required to register their home addresses as a disclosable pecuniary interest. The Committee on Standards in Public Life's review of Local Government Ethical Standard recommended in January 2019 that councillors should not be required to register their home addresses as a disclosable pecuniary interest. However, at present the Government has not legislated for this.

It is important that if councillors have such concerns, they share these with the monitoring officer transparently and openly so they can be properly considered.
