Email received 27 September 2024

Hi abbey

Spoke to you earlier about out of control hedge that's doing asap please.

We have massive damp/mould issues in our house on that side of property we have been told that it might not be getting enough sun light and with the mould issue we need to get sort as we have a new born which comes and stay. 8years ago it used to be level with our fence which I've put in photos. I have spoken to Xxx and he only hedge cuts but to take this back to fence level will need chainsaw work.

So we are asking can u please take this down to your fence level so we can get on top of are dump/mould walls ?

Discussed with Contractor who has started annual works on hedge – confirmed with resident that works were imminent and that we would review when complete.

Contractor confirmed that some areas would need chainsaw work this year, it was agreed to progress with works as extra costs would fall within the Clerks authorisation level.

ACTION:

Contractor to complete works and report back to office if they feel further work is necessary.

In the same week another resident requested works to the same hedge that falls inside their garden. Contractor is aware.
