There are seven Nolan principles that apply to the conduct of people in public life. Please give details that demonstrate when you have applied these principles in your work or other relevant examples:

Selflessness : you should act in the public interest

The following statement covers all the below boxes.

As an RAF Officer I have sworn an oath to live everyday (both as an Officer and Civilian) by the RAF Ethos of Respect for all, Integrity at all times, to put Service to others before self and to always strive for Excellence in everything I do.

My service both in the Air Cadets and my professional life as a senior manager has given me exposure and responsibility and experience for all these areas on this sheet and the next.

Integrity : you should not put yourself under any obligations to others, allow them improperly to influence you or seek benefit for yourself, family, friends or close associates

Objectivity : you should act impartially, fairly and on merit

Accountability : you should be prepared to submit to public scrutiny necessary to ensure accountability

Openness : you should be open and transparent in your actions and decisions unless there are clear and lawful reasons for non-disclosure

Honesty : you should always be truthful

Leadership : as a councillor, you should promote, support and exhibit high standards of conduct and be willing to challenge poor behaviour
