Hi Alex

Good to see you yesterday, I thought I would send a quote on an email as discussed.

Based on you supplying a map of the site with allotment numbers, we can do this management survey for £750 + VAT. However you did mention that its a reinspection. If its a reinspection report you require, can you send over the existing one you have. I also think because of the nature of the earth being regularly moved, a fresh inspection of the whole site is more current, as if any asbestos has been found, it has been hand picked and moved away off site.

Although its likely small fragments will be found, theres a small chance you will find an area with extensive debris. If this happens, this will be £500 + VAT for a 2 hour visit and will also cover up to 25kg of asbestos debris.
